Results

An advertising medium lives or dies by reason of the results which it brings to its advertisers.

To make The Daily a successful medium to the merchants of the city it is our duty to demonstrate the fact that "Daily" advertising brings business.

And when the merchant knows that we bring him
our business everybody is happy.

He says "That McGill paper is good to me." And he sticks with us. And when we make good for him we make good for ourselves as well.

OVERTIME GAME.

Med. '23 Defeated Commerce
'23 Leaving Title to the Arts Gang.

Commerce '23 went down to defeat
last evening before the third year Meds. in a close and exciting game of hockey, which was only decided after ten minutes overtime play. The game was very keenly contested throughout, both teams working hard for a win. Commerce needed a victory to tie with Arts '23, leaders of the league.

Owing to the afternoon's snowfall,
the ice was exceedingly sticky, and fast hockey was almost impossible;
while puck-carrying was difficult at all times. Despite the poor condition of the rink, however, hard playing was in evidence, and good combination was a feature of the playing of both teams.

Commerce is to be commended for the clean game they played, only one penalty being imposed during the entire time of play—surely an exceptional feature in class hockey this year. Pratt, Arts '21, who refereed, kept the game well in hand all along.
The Med team was delayed in getting onto the ice, and would have defaulted the game but for the sportsmanship of Commerce, who agreed to wait for their appearance.

Play opened up with rushes by both teams, and many near goals were averted by good work in the nets.
Mair and Lawson made a rush which almost succeeded, but Orr saved
nicely and rocked Cook with a wicked shot. Commerce scored the first goal in five minutes when Martin hit in a rebound after a scrimmage in front of the nets, the ball bouncing into the corner over Cook's stick.

Medicine worked hard to even up,
but Brewer in goal turned aside many a promising hit. Mair got through after a pretty piece of combination,
but shot over Brewer's head.

On the resumption of play in the second period, matters evened up and furious playing resulted. Connor took a long shot from centre ice, but Cook batted it over the boards. Mair broke through alone; Brewer saved by rushing out and blocking. With only a few minutes to go, Medicine attacked hotly, playing every man on the offensive. Thirty seconds before the close of the period, Lawson re-

BASKETBALLERS WIN LAST NIGHT

McGill Senior Team Defeats
M.A.A.A. "Blues" By 34-22.

Staging a comeback that augurs
well for their chances against Queen's on Saturday, the Senior basketball team won a scheduled basketball game against the M.A.A.A. team by a score of 34 to 22, last night. The team was without the services of Hay at centre, and their victory is all the more welcome on that account, although Amaron put up a good game at the key position. Hay had an attack of the grippe last week, and, although he did his best to go through the game last Saturday, he has been confined to his bed since that time.

The game last night was fast in spots, though at times play was decidedly ragged. McGill had the edge over their opponents throughout the game, getting a lead at the start and retaining it to the end. They showed better combination play than the M.A.A.A., and were on the ball better.
Amaron scored twice for McGill at the start before M.A.A.A. were able to break into the scoring column on a penalty shot. Amaron scored again for McGill shortly after, and then M.A.A.A. showed a burst of speed and Glickman scored twice, cutting Mc-Gill's lead to one point. Play was very even at this time, McGill seem-

CO-EDS PLAY RINGS ROUND ST. LAMBERT

South Shore Sextette Soft
Stuff for "Shag" Girls.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED.

Sherbrooke Street Choked by Struggling Stream of Spectators.

The R.V.C. team was the winner of a hotly contested game against the St. Lambert girls Tuesday night on the rink in the Hollow, the score being 6-1. The McGill sextette was superior in its cool intelligent playing and combination.

The game started with quick, hard playing, and the puck travelled from end to end of the ice. St. Lambert had the first shot which was well stopped by Miss Kerr. During this period the attempted combination of the McGill squad failed utterly, each pass being intercepted by their opponents. The individual rushes of the St. Lambert team were well checked by Miss Fry and Miss Cameron, who played a steady dependable game throughout on defense. Despite many attempts neither team was able to score during this period.

In the second period both teams
came on to the ice fresh and determined to score. St. Lambert brought the puck near the McGill goal but they were checked by Miss Fry who made an end to end rush and shot.
Miss Tenny turned the shot aside,
however. Miss Campbell and Miss Foley began to show the first combination of the game and amidst many cheers Miss Campbell scored the first goal. Then the McGill team really got going. Miss McKenzie tallied and a few minutes later Miss Campbell, playing a stellar game, scored again, showing splendid stick-handling and speed. Through this period there were many mix ups and the slugging was of a quality seldom seen in girls' hockey. The score at the end of the period was 3-0.

The third period opened with a goal for St. Lambert. This was followed a few minutes later by the prettiest piece of combination of the evening.
The puck was passed from Miss Campbell to Miss Wells then to Miss Foley who shot the fourth goal for McGill. St. Lambert got the puck many times but if they succeeded in passing the defence they were felled by Miss Kerr who, considering her inexperience played a very remarkable game. Miss Campbell scored once more before the whistle blew.

Never has such a large number of men turned out to watch the girls' hockey game at McGill. The whole of the Senior hockey team were present among the crowd and between periods "Thin" Flanagan led the cheering which was all that could be desired. The team were greatly bucked and very appreciative of this interest. Mr. Shaughnessy was good enough to arrange the substituting
on the McGill team giving each girl
a chance to play.

The line up was as follows:
St. Lambert: McGill.
R. Tenny.....Goal.....L. Kerr
P. Leggett.....Defence.....M. Fry
Aldokk.....".....K. Cameron
S. Horsfall.....R. Wing.....G. Mills
A. Adams.....L. Wing.....V. Foley

DISTINGUISHED GUEST SPOKE TO ALUMNAE

Miss Spurgeon's Address at
R. V. C.

MISS KING PRESIDED.

Noted Lecturer Will Speak
to English Classes
To-Day.

Last night in the R.V.C. Convocation Hall, Miss Spurgeon, president of the International Federation of University Women, spoke to the Alumnae Society. Miss King, president of the society, introduced the speaker of the evening. She laid stress on the great importance of this federation and on its comprehensiveness. She then spoke of the accomplishments of Miss Spurgeon. Her importance is shown by the fact that her visit to Montreal
has been given almost as much importance as that of "a movie actress or a boxing champion." Miss Spurgeon is a professor at the University of London and also at the University of Bedford, besides which she holds a doctor's degree of the University of Paris. At present she is at Columbia University, and it is from there that she has come to visit Montreal.

Miss Spurgeon said that it was after her visit with the British Mission that the idea of an International Federation of University Women had first arisen. At first this was to be merely a federation of the English-speaking women graduates, but later
she had seen that it must be worldwide. The first conference was held last summer in London, at which delegates from all parts of the world were present. The aim of the association, Miss Spurgeon said, was to further international friendship by promoting mutual understanding. This was a very important work, as present world events prove. It aims also at the internalization of knowledge
by bringing students together to exchange ideas. The hope that some day the federation may have an organ of its own which will discuss topics of mutual interest to all university women and which will print
the good things about university women which seem to find no expression in the existing magazines of to-day. University women by comparing notes might help in the processes of education,—as for example, they could further the teaching of languages in the schools and help to raise the standards of colleges. This federation, she said, was the beginning of the organized training of women as citizens of the world.

ECONOMISTS TO MEET TO-NIGHT

Starvation of Europe is Topic
Of Club.

The Economics Club is holding its regular meeting to-night in the Arts Building. The subject for discussion is "The Starvation of Europe and its Possible Remedy"—emphasis being placed on the economic situation in France and Germany. Papers will be read by Messrs. S. Murray and H.
O'Hagan.

This subject is one of wide general interest, and is one of the most pressing problems which is confronting the civilized nations to-day. Its solution has been the subject of great controversy and there is still a wide divergence of opinions as to its settlement. The problem will be analyzed to-night from all its viewpoints and the possible solutions fully dealt with.
Since everyone is more or less familiar with its developments from the frequent articles in the press it is expected that an interesting discussion will follow the reading of the papers.

The unusually large membership of the club this year shows that an increasing number of students are taking advantage of the opportunity to keep informed on current topics. It is only necessary to say that there is plenty of room in the smoking room and that all students of Economics are welcome. The time is 8 p.m. in the Arts Building.

R. V. C. NOTES

A meeting has been called by Mr. Noad, president of the recently organized Players' Club, for all women students interested in this activity. While this Club is primarily for students honoring or majoring in English, it does not wish to exclude students of other courses who are interested in its work. This Society should, however, be of particularly great interest to English course students. The meeting is called for 5 p.m. this afternoon in the Arts Building. Notice concerning the exact room in which the meeting will be held will be posted on the R. V. C. notice board. A good attendance is expected, as there seems to be no small amount of enthusiasm among the women students in connection with a club which offers such work as does the Players' Club.

R. V. C. Juniors.

Will all those who have not yet secured biography forms for the Junior Year Book please do so at once. They may be obtained at Miss Trenholme's office. Only five days are left, as all forms must be handed in not later than Monday, Feb. 13th. All not received by that date are in danger of being omitted. Also, will all artists please have their drawings ready as soon as possible. A list of Societies for which drawings are required will be posted.

R. V. C. '22.

There will be a Class meeting at 1 o'clock to-day in the Latin Room. Every member of the Class is urgently requested to be present, as important business is to be transacted. Don't leave it to the other girl to come—come yourself and take an interest in Class affairs!

R. V. C. '23.

A meeting of R. V. C. '23 was held on Tuesday for the choosing of two members to take part in the inter-class debates held under the Delta Sigma Society. Miss Katherine Evans and Miss Nancy Laidlaw were chosen to debate against the Juniors in the coming final inter-class debate for the points towards the banner. The Class wishes them every success in their encounter with the Juniors.

HISTORICAL CLUB.

A rather informal meeting of the Historical Club was held last evening at which two papers were read on the "Trades Union Congress of Great Britain." Mr. F. O. Peterson dealt with its formation and function while Mr. R. C. Harris followed up with its aims and activities. The attendance was very small but it was considered wisest to "go on with the meeting rather than postpone it till next week.

Correspondence

The "Daily" is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length. Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office—that they write upon ONE side of the paper ONLY. No communications will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—
May I take a few inches of your valuable space to ask what has become of smokers around McGill? It's a long time since we've had one, the tendency of most Clubs and Societies seeming to run to dinners and other elaborate and costly functions. The smoker is a delightful, informal, comfortable way of spending an evening; one likes the odd drag at Players' in company with singing, shouting, happy crowd. Let's have more smokers—and soon.

Yours, OLD CHUM.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Sir,—
It was with a great deal of surprise that I read the article in the Tuesday edition of the "Daily" with reference to the Yearbook. This article stated that only a sufficient number of copies would be printed to supply those members of the Junior Year who had subscribed—namely, about 500.

As a sophomore, I would like to express my opinion that this is a mistake on the part of those concerned. If this statement is correct, the Yearbook will not be fulfilling its position in the University. As I understand it, a Yearbook is of equal interest and value to every student, and such a policy as was presented does not admit of this.

May I make the suggestion that the Yearbook Board take the necessary steps to ensure a sufficient supply of this publication to enable every student in the University who so desires to obtain a copy. There are probably three or four hundred sophomores who would be willing to purchase the Yearbook, and I am sure the members of the other years would do the same, provided that this book were available to them, and could be sold at a reasonable price. I think that such an all-round College publication as the Yearbook provides an appeal to every student, and it is an equally desirable possession to Senior and Freshman alike.

SOPHOMORE.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—
I noticed in your edition of Feb. 8th a report that the circulation of the 1922 Yearbook will be limited to five hundred. This comes as a surprise to those students who, though not in the Junior Year, intended getting a copy of this review of our University. As was stated in the columns of the "Daily," this year's "Annual" is to be an "All-McGill" review, and is the sort of book that every student would want to have. Surely the expense of increasing the circulation is not one of the causes for this restriction by the Junior Year. Or is the Annual Board afraid of being left with a few copies on its hands? I am sure there are a thousand students who would be willing to subscribe for a copy of the Yearbook. As a Freshman, I do not see why the Junior Year should monopolize this year's edition of the publication, which was to be "All-McGill for All McGill."

In closing, I would like to suggest that some statement be made by the Annual Board in regard to this matter which concerns so many students of the University.

A FRESHMAN.

AMERICAN CLUB MEET TO-NIGHT

All Interested Are Urged to Be At the Union To-Night At 7.30.

The 22nd of February approaches and once more draws the attention of American minds to the life of a great man in whose honor a holiday is decreed and celebrations will be held back home "across the line." Now it seems only fitting that we Americans should celebrate the day in some fitting way together, and some bright individual comes forward with the suggestion of a dance.

A dance! And queries arise in every mind as to the nature, place and probable cost of such a function, and if you Americans who are interested, or might be interested, will come to the Union to-night at 7.30 you can hear what has been found out so far along those lines. Inquiries have been made at the Ritz, Windsor and Clor's, and lists of prices obtained. It is hard to decide on the function unless enough interested fellows will turn out and express their opinions. Shall it be formal or in-

A man playing or practising with a year other than his own, must enter his attendance personally, as the Manager will not be responsible for any failure to secure credit arising out of negligence on the part of the person affected.

Practice Hours.

Owing to the lateness of the season it will be out of the question to allow All-Star hours between 5.00-7.00 p.m. or to cancel existing class hours. Faculty managers will be well advised to arrange suitable hours, from amongst the class hours available.

Postponements.

Positively no postponements will take place. The schedule is published in this issue, and it is out of the question to alter it. Games will be awarded by default to the team present, or if neither is present, no points will accrue to either team, and the match will be recorded as a loss to each team.

Lateness.

Much inconvenience to the personnel of the Rink is caused by teams coming in late. In future the rule governing default for lateness will be strictly enforced, and matches will be on no consideration be extended beyond the hour fixed for termination.

Recording of Games.

All games, whether inter-class or inter-faculty or challenge, must be reported to the Department of Physical Education on the cards provided. A duplicate copy must be prepared and handed to the referee with any amendments before the game. The score will be recorded on the card which will be left at the rink. Failure to see that a game is reported in due form will cause loss of the game to the side offending, unless it shall be due to negligence on the part of the referee.

Faculty Managers.

The following faculties have signified their intention of competing: Science, Arts, Commerce, Law, Medicine and Dentistry. They have, however, notified the names of their managers. There will be a meeting of Faculty Managers at the Union tomorrow (Friday, 11th), at 5.15 p.m., and a full attendance is desired.

Referees.

It would be extremely desirable if those who have been selected by Faculty Managers to act as Referees, and any others who have not yet been approached, would arrange either to attend in person or to signify through their managers at what hours they could take duty, so that a Duty Roster may be arranged. This is of vital importance. Remember, 5.15 p.m. Friday, 11th.

H. WYATT JOHNSTON, Manager, Class Hockey and Rink.

formal?—Shall we have a hurdy-gurdy or only Berliner's Orchestra? And another question has come up. Shall we join with one or more of the other sectional clubs and hold a big dance?

Now, no one can help having some opinion on these points, and we want everyone to come around and express himself. We give you all the assurance that if enough men don't turn out to insure the success of the thing, it will be dropped. But it can and will be made a good time for everyone if everyone will turn out and help. So, be at the Union—the reading room, probably—to-night at 7.30, and we'll talk it over for a little while and make our plans.

R.V.C. EDITOR RESIGNS AND STAFF CHANGES

Undergrad Meeting Held Yesterday.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

Vote of Thanks Extended to Miss Riley, Who Has Returned to Calgary.

A large and representative attendance characterized the last meeting of the R. V. C. Undergraduate Society, which was held in the Common Room on Tuesday, Feb. 8th.

The business of the meeting was primarily the election of editor and assistant editor for the R. V. C. "Daily" Staff. Before this was attended to, however, Miss Spier, the President, called the attention of the members to the fact that there was a vast difference in the profits, financial and otherwise, between the last Undergrad 'The Damsant' and that held before Christmas. The fact was recognized that this was partly due to the number of other College activities during the same week. Miss Spier, pointed out, however, that if each girl had seen to it that she sold only two tickets, we should have had a better result. Miss Spier then urged the necessity of much more extensive co-operation in the event of another 'The Damsant'.

The real business of the meeting was then attended to. The resignation of Miss D. S. Barnes as R. V. C. editor was read and accepted, since her term of office has expired. A very hearty vote of thanks was moved to Miss Barnes, who has filled this post for the past year so ably and with such untiring zeal and tact. Miss Kathleen Newnam, who has been acting assistant editor since Miss Riley's departure, was then elected to succeed Miss Barnes as R. V. C. editor. Next was read the resignation of Miss M. L. Riley, former assistant editor, and a most valuable member of R.V.C. '22. This resignation was accepted and Miss G. Beckwith of R. V. C. '23, was elected to the office. It was moved that a vote of thanks be sent to Miss Riley who has had to return to her home in Calgary and forego completing her year. Those who worked with Miss Riley can alone fully realize the loss, in her person, to the R. V. C. staff of the "Daily."

There being no further business, the meeting then adjourned.

FEW TICKETS ON SALE FOR DANCE

May Be Had at Union Today—Last Opportunity.

There are still a few tickets on sale for the Informal Dance which is to be held on Friday night. These may be bought from the secretary at the Union to-day. The arrangements for the supper are the same as the last Informal.

The patronesses will be Miss Ethel Hurlbatt, Mrs. H. M. Lamb, Mrs. Melbourn, Mrs. H. Halloran and Mrs. L. C. Montgomery.

The music is to be supplied by Lebaron's Orchestra, and that assures its excellence. Lebaron's Orchestra has played at several of the dances this winter, and is immensely popular. Once more—there are still a few tickets on sale, so take advantage of this last opportunity and enjoy one of the best dances of the season.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH OLD-McGILL?

That vague and one-time overworked term—"college-spirit," which everyone understood and none could define, has strangely dropped out of the vocabulary of McGill. There was a time when McGill men were noted for the interest they took in affairs pertaining to Alma Mater, when a new activity at the University was enthusiastically welcomed and strongly supported, when college men considered college more than a block of lecture-rooms to be deserted immediately after the day's work had been done. Unfortunately that is no longer the case. There is an unmistakable tendency on the part of the individual student to ignore the rightful claims of undergraduate activities upon him.

Why? We have had every reason this session to expect increased and sustained participation in academic, athletic and social life about the campus. The return of overseas men promised energy and enthusiasm after our flaccid war-time existence; the re-establishment of clubs discontinued since 1914; and the formation of new undergraduate organizations, gave hopes of brilliant functions and showed evidences of stirring interest among some, at least, of the students; the athletic glory which came to us last winter hinted at even greater things this year; and the re-organization of the University under a new principal, coupled with the more or less successful financial campaign of last November, stimulated hopes for an epoch-making session.

Ushered in by these favorable conditions, 1920-21 should have been a rousing point of departure for future years. But instead of glowing animation, we are faced with appalling stagnation. Except in two or three sectional clubs and in the Department of Commerce, college spirit has quite disappeared from McGill. While other universities are throwing off the muck of war-dullness, we are stiffening under a crust of apathy that will result in serious consequences to our morale unless it is torn off soon. The pitiful attendance at meetings of the Students' Society is a disgrace. Our undergraduate meetings, especially in the Faculty of Arts, are disgusting exhibitions of the indifference of the vast majority. The tendency to "pink-teism" referred to in our recent editorial cannot be ascribed to other than degeneration of some sort. The vacillation between Y.M.C.A. and Students' Christian Movement at Strathcona Hall is evidence that not enough men are interested in either institution to settle the question one way or the other. The Lit., in spite of much press-agenting, has not set McGill on fire. The collapse of Mock Parliament and the rejection with a more or less lame excuse of a proposed monthly magazine are two incidents of unconcern that show up in vivid contrast to the activity of Mock Parliaments or Moot Courts at other Canadian Universities and to the establishment of a new and excellent publication at 'Varsity. The standard set by our athletic units has been poor; and on one occasion, at least, the usual courtesy shown visiting teams has been disregarded in a distressing manner. The meetings of the Canadian Club, addressed by speakers prominent in public life who discussed subjects of vital interest to Canada and to educated people, have been attended by a mere handful of men. This sort of thing can no longer be ignored.

TRAMP FROM UNION HELD LAST NIGHT

Misses Smith and Robertson Chaperons.

A SUCCESS.

Mild Weather and Light Snowfall Helped.

Last night the second social snow-shoe tramp took place from the Union when a fairly large gathering started at 8.15 to cover a new course over the Mountain. Although there was no moon, yet the mild climate and thin coating of newly fallen snow made tramping easy going, if not ideal, upon Mount Royal.

Miss Smith and Miss Robertson very kindly acted as chaperons for the occasion.

Upon the return from the night's exercise at ten o'clock the snowshoers sat down to the excellent refreshments supplied by the Union Cafeteria after which the party enjoyed a pleasant hour dancing in the Lounge Room. The music was supplied by Mr. Adrey, whose efficiency at the piano for such occasions, is widely known around the University.

The inclemency of the weather made a great number feel very doubtful as to the ultimate success of the function, but every one present who entertained those opinions at the beginning of the evening, had been fully convinced to the contrary by the time that the pianist played "Home, Sweet Home."

We at McGill have an advantage over many other college students, in having a mountain nearby which offers such opportunities as does Mount Royal, for winter sport. Several people last night expressed their opinion that a snowshoeing tramp would be pretty dull if we had not something to make us work to climb up.

SWINGS and JABS

(By "Left Jab.")

The boxers have again resumed training, but this time with even more zeal and energy than they had previously done. Jack McBrierty again made his men run until they could hardly catch their breath. Time is drawing nearer and nearer for the Intercollegiate Assault-at-Arms, and our men will have to work hard if they want to represent their University and win the laurels. Training is the only thing that can make a boxer successful, if it is done in the proper way; and that is by no means over-training. There is every reason to believe that our men have not over-trained. Their present condition will prove this, and also that more training will put them into good shape.

Permission has been obtained from the Athletic Association for the McGill boxers to perform at the smoker given by the Aurora Amateur Athletic Club, in Prince Arthur Hall, on Friday evening, February 11th. With the McGill boxers as headliners, a most enjoyable evening will be spent. The McGill team, captained by John Long, vice-president of the B. W. & F. Club, and McGill champion middleweight, will consist of the following men: Frank Shackell, lightweight champion; Mirsky, flyweight champion; Edelberg, featherweight champion; Bill Brewer, welterweight champion; and McMeens, heavyweight. With these men, there is no doubt that excellent exhibitions of boxing will be rendered. All up McGill to see the mettle of your own men.

Bert Schneider, who refereed the bouts of the elimination contests so well will be out in uniform at the next practice, which will be held in the Molson Gymnasium this afternoon. There is no need to mention that Bert is among the best of boxers to train with. The Olympic ex-welterweight champion possesses remarkable speed, and a hard kick in both hands. He is an excellent man for the McGill boxers to work out with, and they may consider themselves fortunate to have him with them this afternoon.

It is encouraging to see that several of our last year's team, although they have not competed in the eliminations, attended the last practice. Among these were Badger, our light heavyweight champion, and Peter Ward, last year's lightweight champion. These men showed up well, and have all the chances of making the team. "Never say die," is the motto, for it is "better late than never."

ARCHITECTS HELD BALL ON TUESDAY

Fancy Dress Ball at Stretton Hall.

COLORFUL SCENE.

"Marche Grotesque" Was Notable Feature of Entertainment.

On Tuesday evening the second annual Fancy Dress Ball was held by the Architectural Society in Stretton Hall, and as the previous one, proved a huge success. The hall was tastefully decorated with balloons of various colors, blown up to their elastic limit, and other touches designed and executed by members of the society. The music supplied by Mr. Layton's orchestra was all that could be desired by the best critic and inspired all those who did not dance with a desire to learn immediately. The supper was a real treat.

At an early hour the variously garbed couples began to arrive, and at 8.45 the music began, and the floor was comfortably covered with a dancing throng, which presented a most colorful picture to the observer. One glance was sufficient to show the predominance of Eastern costumes and Oriental color schemes. Among the many personages represented were: The Devil, artist, sea scout, Arabs, Elizabethans, Orientals, etc., etc., and a poor girl from the slums.

Just before the Marche Grotesque, a most weird animal, made its appearance, being a creature with four legs, actively in action, a short body with four strongly marked ribs and a huge monstrosity of a head at the end of an eight foot neck, bulging eyes, great jaw and cruel looking fangs. This animal capered playfully around the room and caused great mirth amongst the gathering by its supernatural antics and appearance. It was supposed to remain till it started to feed on the balloons decorating the lights overhead. On making an ungraceful exit, the moving spirits turned out to be Messrs. Luke and Durnford as the animal disappeared.

The Marche Grotesque started with Prof. Nobbs and Mrs. Nobbs at the Miss Torrance as the judges. After head and with Prof. Traquair and circling the room several times, a halt was called and Mrs. Nobbs was proclaimed the winner among the ladies and Leslie Perry among the gentlemen. Supper and the rest followed.

In the second half, referred to as the Decadence, Miss L. Agnes Stanger, to the music of Mr. Van Etten and Mr. Lyman, danced most exquisitely a "Phase Orientale," assisted by her four torch-bearing slaves, Robertson, Shaw, Brown and Wall, and the glow of incense pots. Later in the evening Mr. Amos took a flash-light of the masqueraders, including the antediluvian beast, which it is to be hoped will turn out as successfully as the evening's entertainment.

Great thanks are due to the committee of two. The programme was as follows:

colled a pass in front of the Commerce goal, and poked it into the net, tying the score.

After some consultation, it was decided to reach a decision by playing ten minutes overtime, five minutes each way.

Gauthier missed a beautiful chance of scoring when after wending his way through the entire Med. team a sure goal of his was stopped by Cook. Mair made it 2-1 for Med. '23 when he beat Brewer by a long shot. Commerce tried desperately to even up, but Med. played a defensive game, and broke up all attacks.

Mair and Lawson starred for the winners and worked well together in combination. Ackman, on defence, broke up many an attack and got away with some good rushes. Cook was in his element in goal, batting away difficult shots with ease. Gauthier was the pick of the Com-

LAST CHANCE FOR PHOTOS IN YEARBOOK

This is Final Day For Photographing.

DEFAULTERS' NAMES.

Those Who Have Procrastinated Must Pose To-Day.

According to the schedule of photographing the studio has been running on, to-day, Feb. 10th, is the last day on which pictures may be taken for publication in the McGill Yearbook. The Juniors in Commerce and Science kept well to schedule, and photographing in those classes was completed on the date set as final. The same rigidity of adherence to the drawn-up plans will be followed in the case of the remaining classes, namely, the Juniors in Arts, Medicine, Dentistry, Law and the R. V. C. They were advised a fortnight ago that the final date for all photographing was set for Feb. 10th. The majority of the Juniors have rendered their co-operation to the satisfaction of the executive, but as is always the case, a certain few procrastinate and wait until the last possible opportunity. That opportunity is to-day—it's a case of now or never.

Up to last evening the men whose names appear below had failed to sit for the photographer, according to the studio records. For their benefit this reminder is being issued—only the men themselves lose if they do not see to it that their names will be checked off before the day is over. Should any not be able to make suitable appointments, or wish in any way to communicate with the executive with reference to making unusual arrangements, they are asked to do so without fail this morning by means of the Yearbook mailbox in the Union lobby, or by phoning Up. 8571 between 1.30 and 2 p.m.

BASKETBALL TEAM ENJOYS QUEEN'S TRIP

R. V. C. Receive Royal Reception.

RULES DRAWN

For League — Queen's Girls Great Sports and Generous Hostesses.

Owing to some confusion in the office, and to the suspension of the "Daily" yesterday, the official write-up of the R. V. C. Basketball Team's trip to Kingston was unfortunately delayed. We are pleased to publish it here:—

The trip of the McGill Girls' Basketball Team to Kingston was most interesting and enjoyable. About thirty girls came to the station to cheer them off, and the presence of a few men was noted and appreciated.

At Kingston the team was welcomed by the President of the Basketball Club and by Miss O'Connor, the Queen's coach, and were driven by college men to the Avonmore, one of the women's residences. They were very comfortably put up here. After the game Thursday evening, they were entertained at a "cocoa party," and went to bed early to try to recuperate after their strenuous game in anticipation of their next evening's struggle with Varsity.

Friday afternoon there was a dance given for the visiting teams, and they had a pleasant afternoon, thanks to the consideration of the Queen's girls, who filled their programmes for them and saw to introductions. After the game Friday night the McGill team was entertained at a delightfully informal restaurant party.

At eleven Saturday morning the officials of the three teams met to decide certain business which was to come up at the meeting that night. In the afternoon following the Queen's-Varsity game was held an Alumni Tea, when the teams were able to break training for the first time.

In the evening a banquet was given in the Levana Room of the new Arts Building, which was artistically decorated with the colors of the three teams. There were favors at each place. The members of the teams found enamel pendants in the shape of a basketball, with "Queen's, 1921," engraved on the back. Speeches, toasts, college songs and cheers were given. Mrs. Taylor, wife of the President of the University, gave the opening speech, calling on the Presidents of the McGill and Varsity teams to receive cheques for $100 as their share of the gate receipts to be given to their Athletic Societies.

After dinner, at a meeting of the Interim Committee which had been elected in the morning, the constitution and rules of the proposed Basketball League were drawn up.

The team was then escorted to the midnight train and given as rousing a send-off as consideration for those in the sleeping cars would permit.

Enough cannot be said for the considerate hospitality and cordial friendliness shown our team by Queens. Some day we hope to be able to show them our appreciation and gratitude.

SALE OF TICKETS CLOSES TO-NIGHT

Seats For Queens Hockey and Basketball Games Obtainable at Union.

It was announced last night that "Art" Ross, famous ex-hockey player, would referee the game against Queens next Saturday night. Due to last Saturday's defeat by Varsity, greater interest than usual is being displayed in this game. Queens were defeated by Varsity 7-2, but at the time they were without their best man, so they can be expected to put up a very hard fight on Saturday.

Tickets have been on sale since Monday at the Union and will remain on sale till to-night. To-day then is the last chance for students to avail themselves of the opportunity to secure the best seats. After to-day the seat sale will be at the Arena and will be open to the general public. It is regretted that though the committee have had the best tickets on sale here, so far few students have taken advantage of this fact. So if you want a good seat buy it to-day at the Union.

Seats for the basketball game against Queens, which takes place on Saturday afternoon, are also on sale. Here also a hard fight is looked for, so it is up to the student body to support their team and fill the Highlanders' Armory to capacity on Saturday.

INTER-CLASS CHAMPIONS IN HOCKEY

ARTS '23.

Fast, Clean Play — Runners-Up Lose Out on Overtime Play.

The following games have been played this week:

Monday, 7th — Commerce '23 defeated Law '21-'22 by 10-2.

Tuesday, 8th — Med. '23 defeated Law '21-'22 by default.

Wednesday, 9th — Med. '23 defeated Commerce '23 by 2-1.

The following game has been postponed:

Wed., 9th — Commerce '23 vs. Med. '23, from 6.15-7.15 p.m., to 5.15-6.15 p.m., Thursday, 10th.

The following games will take place this week:

Thursday, 10th — 6.15-7.15 p.m., Dentals '23 vs. Law '21-'22.

STANDING.

The following is the standing in the Inter-class League:

	W.	D.	L.	P.	Pts.
Arts '23	4	1	0	5	9
Com. '23	3	1	0	5	7
Sci. '23	3	0	2	5	6
Med. '23	3	0	1	5	6
Law '22	0	0	4	0	0
Dent. '23	0	0	4	0	0

Championship.

Arts '23 are declared Inter-class champions of McGill University, having scored 9 points. The runners-up, Commerce '23, secured 7 points.

The Class Hockey Manager desires to congratulate the champions on behalf of the Hockey Club for the consistent excellence of their play. Great credit is also due to the runners-up for their plucky struggle to tie with Arts '23 in two clean fast games, the second of which, against Medicine '23, they lost in overtime play.

M.A.A.A. started the second half with a rush, and in the first few minutes cut down McGill's lead to three points. McGill came right back, and "Bones" Little got two baskets in quick succession. McGILL MEN SEE BRITISH FILM TO-DAY

At Engineering Institute, 176 Mansfield Street.

FIVE O'CLOCK.

Never Been Screened in City — Open to All Students.

A special exhibition of some special British films, as yet unscreened in Montreal, will be shown at the Engineering Institute, 176 Mansfield Street, to-day, at 5 p.m. This is only possible by reason of the kindness of the Institute in putting on these films for McGill on a special day. The exhibition will be most interesting to all students, whether Science or not, and a large turnout is expected. As may be seen from the ensuing list, the films comprise some very rare phases of air work, and a like opportunity may not occur for a long time.

The invitation is extended to the Instructional Staff and Students of McGill. The seating space is limited, and an early attendance is advisable.

These pictures are all authentic films made during war activities in England, and as some of the aeroplane designs have been discontinued, it is a matter of historical interest alone to see them. It has only been made possible to bring these films to Canada during the past few months, so this is an opportunity that should not be neglected.

The list of films to be shown follows:

Flying boats and seaplanes—Flight trials of flying boats and seaplanes. Aero compass, Part 5—Evolution of aero compass.

Theory of flight, Part 3—Flight trials of torpedo dropping seaplanes. H.M.S. "Campania"—Seaplane flights with "mother ship."

Theory of flight.
The ring sight—Instructional film on the use of the ring sight in aerial gunnery.

Tails up, France, Part 2—Illustrates a typical day's work of a pilot at the front.

FASCINATING LECTURE IN THE OLD MED.

Miss Spurgeon to Speak This Noon.

MODERN POETRY.

Eminent Authority on Literary Matters Gives Address By Invitation.

Miss Caroline Spurgeon, Professor of English Literature in the University of London, whose stay in Montreal this week is arousing the greatest of interest among university and other circles, is scheduled to speak to the First Year English classes, men and women, at noon to-day. Dr. MacMillan and Miss Carr have been able to arrange this lecture, and hope the attendance will be such as the importance of the occasion warrants.

The lecture will be given at the regular hour of the men's First Year English—12 o'clock. The Department of Mathematics has very kindly consented to release all women students taking the twelve o'clock Maths. lecture, so they may attend as well. Miss Spurgeon will speak in the theatre of the Old Medical Building, which is quite large enough to accommodate the joint First Year classes as well as all other students of English who are free at that hour and who will care to attend. An invitation is extended to all others in the University who may be interested to be present.

The speaker will deal with Modern Poetry, and her soundly established reputation as a student and as a lecturer guarantees a fascinating hour for those privileged to hear her.

Miss Spurgeon has already been the guest of McGill University. She was a member of the British Universities Mission to the United States which visited Montreal during the influenza epidemic in 1918. Again, last evening, she was the guest of the Alumnae Society at R.V.C. (see another column).

An authority upon Chaucer, for work on which subject she was given the degree of "Docteur" at the Université de Paris, Miss Spurgeon is an eminent authority on matters literary. She is the first president of the International Federation of University Women Graduates, and is spending this session in New York lecturing at Barnard College and Columbia University.

(Continued from Page 1.) The Federation at present was working for the establishment of university clubs for women in as many towns as possible, so that university women when travelling might be made at once to feel at home, and to get to know the people of the country. It was also working for the establishment of travelling scholarships, so that students might go to study from one country to another. One perpetual scholarship had been already endowed by the American in memory of Miss Rose Sedgwick, a companion of Miss Spurgeon on the British Mission. Miss Spurgeon also expressed the desire that there might be exchange of teachers between countries. She had found this most delightful, she said.

Miss Spurgeon then gave her impression of the American student. She was, she said, quicker, more lively, more alert, with a more restless mind than the English student. She was ready to debate and talk, but she had not the intensive seriousness of her English sister. This was partly due to the difference in examination systems in the universities. The American system encouraged greater dependence on the professor and less work in library. In America also more girls came to college for a good time—in England the proportion of women coming to college is small, and she is more bent on serious study.

Miss Spurgeon said that in her opinion English and American women might learn a great deal from mutual acquaintance and interchange of ideas.

Miss Derick thanked Miss Spurgeon on behalf of the Alumnae. She said that we probably were like our neighbors to the south in many of our characteristics. She hoped that this organization would help women to undertake other international work in the future. The women's international councils of the past—such as the International Council of Women, the Women's International Suffrage Alliance, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union, had already done much towards binding women of all countries together; and this would do much towards avoiding future international disasters. She hoped that under Miss Spurgeon's able guidance the International Federation of University Women would fulfill its aim.

Miss Hurlbutt then rose and said she wished to personally thank Miss Spurgeon for her excellent address.

INVENTOR OF BASKETBALL FROM MCGILL

Dr. Naismith Worked For Weeks on New Game.

PEACH BASKETS.

Great Game Was Originated Thirty Years Ago.

Very few students know that Dr. James A. Naismith, a graduate of McGill, invented the game of basketball. Dr. Naismith, a Canadian by birth, after completing his medical course at McGill, graduated from the Gross Medical School. He was appointed Associate Professor of Physical Education at the University of Kansas in 1898, becoming full professor of that department ten years later. During the war, he served with the Y.M.C.A. in France as director of social hygiene for the American Expeditionary Force.

Basketball was the result of a deliberate attempt to evolve a game suitable for men to play indoors. In 1891, Doctor Naismith was in charge of a gymnasium class at the Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A., then an institution for college for athletes and association men. The men enrolled in the class were football, baseball and track athletes and became weary of the inside work consisting of boxing, wrestling and swimming.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Christian instructors, some one suggested that invention is merely the use of things at hand. Doctor Naismith remarked that invention of a new game was possible. He concentrated for weeks on this idea.

Football, lacrosse, hockey, soccer and other games, the doctor concluded were too tough to be played indoors. He decided to work out his new game with Rugby as a basis, eliminating the features which made it extremely rough. Tackling and kicking, he found on analysis, were at the root of the evil. He eliminated tackling by allowing the player to run when he does not have the ball, and by having the ball passed with hands only, he did away with kicking.

When the question of goals came up Doctor Naismith decided he must have receptacles in which to throw the ball. This idea was borrowed from the old game of "Duck on the Rock." The upright type of goal which would allow the game to become strenuous by permitting excessive force in scoring.

The superintendent of grounds was asked to furnish two boxes, eighteen inches square. But these were not available just then and two peach baskets were offered. Doctor Naismith took these and hung one at each end of the court, using the gallery for support. Since the height of the gallery happened to be ten feet, that is the present height of the goal.

Lacrosse furnished the plan for arranging the men on the court. The inventor decided to have the game started by throwing up the ball and having one man from each side jump up at it. The team consisted of nine men at first. The number was reduced to seven and later to five, as the skill of the men developed.

COMMERCE BEAT LAW ON MONDAY

Clean Game Proves Commerce Superiority—Score Was 10-1.

Commerce '23 clearly demonstrated their superiority over Law '22 on Monday night, when they defeated them by the score of 10-1. The game was one of the cleanest yet played in the Inter-Class Hockey League, only two minor penalties being handed out.

Commerce scored five goals in each period, and had a decided edge over their opponents throughout the game. Martin and Connor each scored four goals and were the stars of the evening. Chisholm was responsible for preventing a whitewash when he scored Law's one goal in the second period.

and welcome her to McGill, because of long association with her. She said how grateful we all are to Miss Spurgeon for her visit to Montreal and for the pleasure she has given us in her address to the Alumnae. Miss Spurgeon, she said, has given the right interpretation of one nation to another—the disinterested interpretation of

Good Roads Congress and Machinery Exposition

"The Relationship of Highway and Motor Transport Development to Education," will be one of the principal subjects discussed at the big nation-wide Good Roads Congress and Machinery Exposition now being held at the Coliseum, in Chicago, according to announcement made by officers of the American Road Builders' Association, under whose auspices the congress is being held. The subject will be presented by Prof. C. J. Tilden, National Director of Highways and Highway Transport Education, Washington, D.C., one of the foremost leaders in the good roads movement.

Improvement of the highways bears such an important relation to rural and city education that the subject is beginning to receive considerable attention, not only from highway but educational officials. The improvement of the highways in many sections of the country has made it easier for school children in the rural districts to get to the rural schools and to reach handily and quickly the higher institutions of learning in the cities. Wherever roads have been improved, statistics show that educational facilities have broadened and there has been a marked growth in school attendance. Census data, compared with road statistics, shows clearly the relationship between illiteracy and bad roads. Many factors contribute to illiteracy, but it is considered significant that where one is found there is usually the other. In Arkansas, Missouri, North Carolina and Mississippi, where less than 2 per cent. of the roads are improved, there were, according to census figures, 374,788 native born white illiterates out of a total population of 7,800,000. In Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island, where more than 30 per cent. of the roads are improved, there were only 20,000 native born white illiterates out of a total population of 6,025,000. While Prof. Tilden will present the subject of "The Relation of Highway Improvement to Education," his address will be followed by a general discussion open to the entire congress.

Other subjects to be discussed are: "The Local and National Importance of the Lee Highway," by Dr. S. M. Johnson, Roanoke, Va.; "Our National Road Problems," by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C.; and "Highway Improvement in New England," by A. W. Dean, Chief Engineer, Division of Highways, Massachusetts, Dept. of Public Works. The subject of "The Highway's Part in the Development of Efficient Transportation" will be presented by C. W. Ried, of the Federal Highway Council, Washington, D.C., and that of "Types of Pavements," by James H. MacDonald, New Haven, former State Highway Commissioner of Connecticut. H. C. Sylvester, vice-president of the National City Co., New York, will discuss "Highway Finance"; H. G. Shirley, secretary of the Federal Highway Council, Washington, D.C., will discuss the subject of "Subgrades," and E. N. Hines, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Detroit, Mich., will read a paper on "Recent Developments in Road Building." "The Relation Between Engineers and Contractors" will be presented by W. A. Rogers, of Chicago, president of the Associated General Contractors. Other subjects, including those of "Business Forecasts for 1921 and 1922," and "The Continuation of Federal Highway Appropriations" and "Highway Researches and What the Results Indicate," will be discussed. Among those who are expected to participate in the discussions are W. S. Keller, state highway engineer of Alabama; T. J. Wasser, state highway engineer of New Jersey; Nedell D. Darlington, chairman of the California State Highway Commission; Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer of Oregon; A. T. Goldbeck, testing engineer, United States Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C.; Anson W. Marston, dean of Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa; Clifford Older, state highway engineer of Illinois; F. H. Enó, professor of engineering at Ohio State University; Prof. I. O. Baker, of Illinois University, Urbana, Ill.; Wm. D. Uhler, chief engineer, Pennsylvania State Highway Department; I. W. Patterson, chief engineer, State Board of Public Roads, Providence, R.I.; H. P. Gillette, editor, "Engineering and Contracting," Chicago, Ill.; Maj. R. Keith Compton, chairman of the City Paving Commission, Baltimore, Md.; R. G. Collins, of the Keystone Construction Co., Chicago; A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer of Wisconsin, and H. S. Mattimore, assistant engineer of the New York State Highway Commission, Albany, N.Y. Among those who will preside at the various sessions are: Lieut.-Col. H. L. Bowlby, chief of the War Materials Division, United States Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C.; George C. Diehl, county engineer, Erie Co., New York; J. A. Duchastel, city manager, Outremont, Canada; C. M. Upham, chief engineer, Delaware State Highway Department, Dover, Del.; Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner of Michigan; Howard F. Beebe, vice-president of Harris, Forbes & Co., New York City, and Walter A. Rogers, Chicago, president of the Associated General Contractors. At the opening session of the congress, addresses of welcome were delivered by Gov. Len Small of Illinois, and by Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago. These were responded to by the president of the American Road Builders' Association, M. J. Faherty, president of the Board of Local Improvements, Chicago. For the entertainment of the delegates attending the convention, a moving-picture show and dinner-dance, a concert by the Great Lakes Naval Station Band, and a theatre party will be provided.

As many women will be present, special entertainment features have been provided for their benefit by a committee of Chicago women, headed by Mrs. George B. Angell. A reception and tea were held yesterday, in the Green Room at the Congress Hotel. This morning there will be a sight-seeing tour by automobile followed by a luncheon and entertainment at the Drake Hotel. If the weather is bad a shopping tour will be substituted for the Automobile trip. On Friday there will be a luncheon at the South Shore Country Club. The dinner and dance at the Congress Hotel to-night will be given through courtesy to the ladies.

Both the congress and show are being held in the Chicago Coliseum. Forty thousand square feet of floor space has been devoted to the show, which promises to surpass in the number and variety of its exhibits, any of those held heretofore. A feature of the show is an extensive exhibit by the Division of Tests, Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C. The division will demonstrate impact tests on wet and soft subgrades, and on dry, hard and compact subgrades. Six-in. and eight-in. concrete slabs, ten feet square, will be used in the demonstrations. There will also be a demonstration of subgrade investigations, including the use of tubes for showing vertical capillarity; apparatus used in the analysis of subgrade materials, including a washing machine in actual operation; apparatus for making bearing value tests, and wall charts demonstrating bearing value results. Other features of the exhibit are enlarged photographs and diagrams showing drainage investigations at the Arlington Farm, an exhibit of concrete and concrete aggregates, apparatus and enlarged photographs demonstrating tests of bituminous and non-bituminous road materials, and moving picture films illustrating tests at Arlington.

The congress headquarters, information and register booths are located at the Coliseum. The officers' hotel headquarters are the Congress Hotel. The president of the American Road Builders' Association at this time is M. J. Faherty, president of the Board of Local Improvements, Chicago. The vice-presidents are: J. S. Duchastel, City Manager, Outremont, Canada; Lieut.-Col. H. L. Bowlby, Chief, War Materials Division, Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D.C.; Robert C. Terrell, State Engineer, Oklahoma City, Okla., and S. Benscn, chairman, State Highway Commission, Portland, Oregon. The secretary is E. L. Powers, editor of "Good Roads," New York City; and the treasurer is James H. MacDonald, New Haven, Conn., former State Highway Commissioner of Connecticut. The executive committee is composed of M. J. Faherty, E. L. Powers, J. H. MacDonald, H. L. Bowlby and C. M. Upham.

On February 22, two airplanes of the U.S. War Department will attempt to fly from coast to coast in 24 hours. The distance is 2,079 miles, between San Diego, California, and Jacksonville, Florida. Only two stops will be made during the flight.

The Cafeteria

There is little or no need to boost the Union Cafeteria to the Student Body as a whole—but there are still a few to whom we would make our appeal.

Catering as it does to the student and his tastes, The Cafeteria has always operated with an eye to his pocketbook as well as his inner man.

The combination of good food well cooked plus economy in price is our basis of operation.
